

Trinkt! Vs. Other Apps

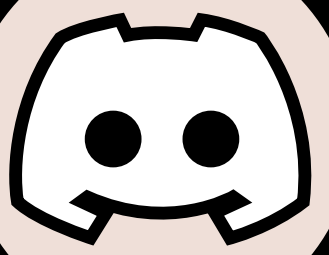

Trinkt! is an app made for collectors that allows you to do everything a collector would need to do! It allows you to store your collections and keep track of what you have and don't have, as well as store information about your collectables. It allows you to show off your collection to anyone using the app. It even allows you to trade with other users so that you can create the collection of your dreams! While some other apps can do similar things, none of them can do it as well as Trinkt can!

Reddit

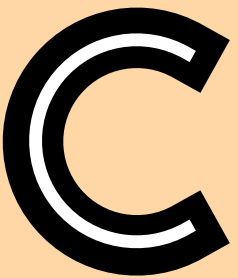

- ♡ Some communities have almost 1,000,000 members.
- ♡ You can post things to specific communities of people who collect a specific thing.
- ♡ However, collectors are not a majority, so users are likely to see posts from other communities in their feed.
- ♡ Trinkt is made specifically for collectors, meaning all the content on the app is by collectors, for collectors!

Discord

- ♡ One of the largest collector communities has less than 15,000 members.
- ♡ Not built for creating "posts", rather it is a chatroom app, making it hard to keep track of your collection on it.
- ♡ Your posts can easily get lost in the sea of messages.
- ♡ Trinkt has individual posts containing information about your collection, letting you easily keep track of it!

iCollect Everything

- ♡ Has a massive and diverse database of collectables.
- ♡ Designed for keeping track of your collection.
- ♡ Lacks functionality for sharing your collection or trading with others.
- ♡ Separate app for each category of collectable (on mobile).
- ♡ Trinkt has a unified layout where you can see items from both your own and other's collection in a single app!

Kolektō

- ♡ Has many of the same features as Trinkt, including collection storing, sharing, and trading.
- ♡ There is no feed, so you must already know someone before you can send them something in your collection.
- ♡ The app requires a subscription to use.
- ♡ Trinkt is free with ads, meaning you can have all the same features (and more) without spending a single penny!

Memōa

- ♡ There is a feed to post your collections, with filters to show posts from specific communities.
- ♡ It has limited functionality for storing and keeping track of your collection.
- ♡ There is no marketplace to buy or trade collectables.
- ♡ Trinkt has a feed feature as well, but it also lets you easily keep track of your collections and trade with others!