

It's everywhere, all the time.

Your kids say it, and it's all over the internet.
It's hard to escape it, even harder to understand it.

50% of Americans admit to using popular slang without knowing what it means
-Preply.com survey

“43% of parents with 8-10 year-old kids who are in Gen Alpha have trouble understanding them because their kids use slang”
-prdaily.com

92% of Gen Z uses slang daily.

But it's okay...

We're here to help.

Our App is a slang translation tool that you can use to deciphering the weirdest new words. We use a state of the art “pop culture detection system” that automatically updates itself with the newest slang so you can stay up to date.

We also have a team of linguists that are constantly updating our blog in case you want to read more into what people are saying.

Use us for...

Your family

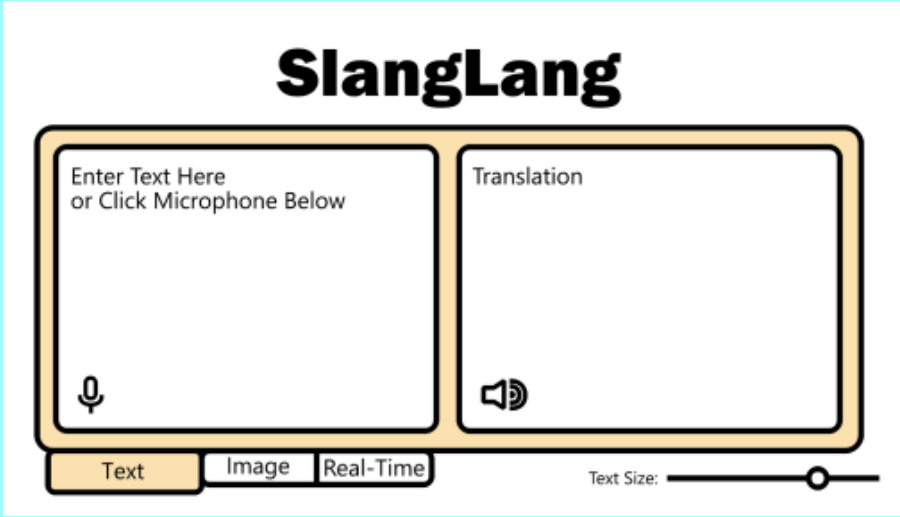

Your coworkers

Anyone else!
